POTASHCORP

Director, Treasury

PotashCorp has a solid track record of success. With only 12 countries in the world producing potash, PotashCorp has a product that is in global demand to fertilize crops and increase food production. With a market capitalization of $70.1 billion at June 30, 2008, and net income of $1.1 billion in 2007, this is an exciting company with excellent growth potential.

Reporting to the Senior Director, Treasury and Corporate Development, the Director, Treasury will be accountable for the leadership and direction of the corporate Treasury function including: cash management, foreign exchange, short-term investing and borrowing, risk management and related hedging activities and strategies. As a CFA, you have demonstrated current and progressive treasury and management experience.

Your knowledge of complex treasury operations, complex foreign exchange issues, innovative cash management, and extensive banking relationships is your strength. Take your career to the next level as you evolve best practices in an elite organization. To further explore this exciting and challenging opportunity, please forward your resume in complete confidence to careers@hhsrb.ca or phone (403) 410-6700.
