

Quantitative Analyst

Position Overview:

Powerex Corp., a wholly owned power marketing subsidiary of BC Hydro, has a full time regular opportunity for a Quantitative Analyst to join our Market Risk group, reporting to the Market Risk Manager. If you team-oriented, efficient, and demonstrate strong interpersonal, financial analysis and analytical abilities, we want to hear from you.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will be involved in a variety of analysis to support the trading and risk management of a diverse portfolio of physical energy and related energy derivative products. Accountabilities include running regular and ad-hoc risk reports, conducting custom analysis to support non-standard and strategic business opportunities and continual enhancement of Powerex's Risk Management model to keep in step with industry best practice.

In addition, you will be relied upon to support the achievement of our purpose and long-term goals by fostering our values: teamwork, accountability, integrity, safety and service.

Requirements:

This position will attract someone with exceptional analytical aptitude as demonstrated through a preferred 2 - 5 years of related work experience, including the completion of a Quantitative Finance, Econometrics, Mathematics/Physics, or Engineering based degree, completion of CFA designation or MBA is an asset. Applicants must have well developed organizational skills to respond to shifting priorities and timelines. As well, the successful candidate will possess strong verbal and written communication skills and the ability to work in a fast paced, open work environment. Knowledge of analysis of derivatives, stochastic simulation and statistical analysis, and excellent skills related to standard business software and statistical software packages, supported by programming, are essential to be successful. Experience and understanding of physical and financial energy market structure, and the operation of a trading organization, will be considered an asset.
