

CFA
Three letters that speak volumes

How do you find an advisor you can trust? Look for three letters after an investment advisor's name: CFA®. It's proof you're working with a professional who has not only passed the industry's most rigorous examinations, but who also—every year—makes the commitment to put investor interests first.

Setting a higher standard for the Vancouver investment community

For more information about the Chartered Financial Analyst designation, visit www.CFAVancouver.com